2007 Community Health Fair to take place

Ivinson Memorial Hospital and the Laramie Community Recreation Center are proud to sponsor the 2007 Community Health Fair on February 3rd. The event will take place at the Recreation Center from 8:00 am until 12 noon. There will be no cost to attend the health fair, although some of the various screenings available may be offered at a reasonable fee.

As you enter the health fair, please stop by the registration table to receive a Health Risk Appraisal as well as registration packet. The first 50 people to register will receive an IMH baseball cap! Some door prizes will be awarded throughout the morning.

Several different screenings will be available that morning. Screenings are essential for the health and well being of individuals and our community. They are used to detect possible problems that require further assessment by a physician. Offering screenings during a health fair is a great way to reach out to community members who would not otherwise have access to them.

Anyone wishing to have blood chemistry panels done should fast for 12 hours (unless otherwise directed by your physician). The Laboratory at Ivinson Memorial Hospital will be performing blood draws exclusively on Saturday, February 3, and will perform a maximum of 400. They will be done on a first come, first served basis. Registration for blood draws will end at 11 am, to allow for personnel to finish in a reasonable amount of time. A number system will be used to eliminate the need for standing in line waiting to get blood drawn. Once registered for the draw, participants can continue walking around the health fair until their number is called. The fees for the panels are $35 and the PSAs are $20.

Photos were taken during our last health fair held in September 2005. Please feel free to rework the captions! You can use any of the photos that I send, I just want to provide names of the ones that we know.

#14: Dr. Jeremy Jones of Laramie Spinal Care Center participated at the 2005 Health Fair.

#17: UW College of Health Sciences students and staff had a table at the 2005 Health Fair.

#21: Over 200 community members participated in the last health fair, held in September 2005. Heather Norelius and her two children, Keegan and Jessica, learn some back strengthening tips from Lindsey Caba, a PT assistant in the IMH Rehabilitation Department.
